

Baby Care Medical Assistance Program

For a Healthy Beginning

What services does the Baby Care Program provide?

The Baby Care Program can help provide a healthy beginning for your unborn child. In partnership with the SD Department of Health, the program provides services such as:

- payment for doctor checkups and help with transportation
- pregnancy assessment (ask questions about your health)
- case management (help you get the services you need)
- prenatal education (teach you about your pregnancy and how to take care of you and your baby)
- hospital pre-registration for your baby's delivery
- referral to other programs
- medical care for you and your other children

Who qualifies for the program?

Even if you have never been eligible for medical assistance, you may find you qualify for the Baby Care Medical Assistance Program. Eligibility depends on your income.

If you are pregnant, you can apply for the Baby Care Medical Assistance Program by contacting your local Department of Social Services' office. You can also contact your Community Health Nurse. To find the office closest to you, call 1-800-738-2301.

- Have you recently found out that you are pregnant?
- Are you wondering how you are going to get and pay for the medical care you need?

If you answered "yes" to either of the above questions, the Baby Care Medical Assistance Program may be for you and your unborn baby.

Even before you start to look or feel pregnant, your baby needs love and care. You also need care to be healthy. The Baby Care Medical Assistance Program can help provide the care both you and your baby need.
